

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates.

Today the bias of the media, in favor of those private interests who own them, is so blatant that it has made America's "free press" the laughing stock of the world. The only reason you can't hear them laughing very loud is because they know that the agenda of those private interests represent the worst horrors this planet has ever known.
